Growing through the Sunday Scriptures

May 20, 2018
Pentecost Sunday
Acts 2:1-11
Psalm: 104:1, 24, 29-30, 31, 34
1 Corinthians 3B-7, 12-13
John 20: 19-23

A reading from the Holy Gospel according to John:

On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them,

"Peace be with you."

When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again,

"Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." And when he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them,

"Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained."

Focus questions:

1. Describe a time when you were locked away out of fear. Who or what helped you to come out?
2. What do the words, "I am sending you" challenge you to do?
3. Relate a time when you recognized the work of the Holy Spirit in your life.

Family and children's question:

Talk about a time when you were able to share peace with someone who was not at peace.

FR. ANTONY'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

Husband: "Now that looks like a happily married couple."

Wife: "Don't be too sure, my dear. They're probably saying the same thing about us."

'To be united' is not felt from what is seen outwardly because perceived unity can be an act. Unity is the fruit of what is experienced inside and expressed outside. Unity is lived from the hearts of those persons who want to be in unity.

In today's Gospel Jesus prays for unity among His followers. In his prayer Jesus pleads to God the Father for two things that would maintain unity among them. 1) the disciples whom He sent into the world may not belong to the world. 2) God must consecrate them to the truth.

As disciples we have to live in the world but what does it mean that we should not belong to the world?

Belonging to the world will reduce us to claim that the way we believe or the value we hold are the only truths. This in turn will separate others who have a different way of expressing their belief and life's-values. No one has the full and total possession of God's truth. All our human efforts to believe and to worship God, the ultimate truth, is only partial and insufficient.

That is the reason Jesus consecrates us to the truth. It is not that we seek the truth but that we consecrate ourselves to the truth. Consecration means to totally surrender oneself to go where the truth leads beyond one's own convenience and personal philosophies.

Let us pray for the courage and wisdom to leave one's own convenience and to be led by God's truth so that we, Christians of all denominations may live in God's unity.

Mother's Day: We wish all mothers, grandmothers, great grand-mothers, step-mothers, and God-mothers a happy Mother's day. May God bless you all with good health, long life and a happy heart to cherish life. We thank you for who you are in bringing life into the world and for your love and care.

Next Sunday is Pentecost Sunday. Let us join the novena with the whole church for the Holy Spirit to come upon us and our families. The families of the volunteers of the children's mass will tie red balloons to your cars on Pentecost Sunday. Please bring the balloons to your home and tie them to your mail box. This would be an outward expression of the spiritual truth that you and your household are filled with gifts of Holy Spirit. The waving balloons proclaim your inner Spirit to show and share the fruits of the Holy Spirit-- love, service, kindness etc.

Time to celebrate Matt our newly ordained Deacon: Saturday, May 19th one of our well known parishioners, Mr. Matthew Surico, lovingly known as Matt is going to be ordained as a Deacon at St. Agnes Cathedral by Bishop John Barres at 11:00 am. We can follow the celebration on Telecare TV channel 29. The next day, Sunday, May 20th he will celebrate with us as deacon at the 12:15 mass. On behalf of the parish, Matt and his family, you are invited to celebrate with him and wish him well in Walden Hall after the mass.

Wedding Visit to India: On Sunday evening, May 20th after the Diaconate Celebration of Matt, I leave to India to celebrate my nephew's wedding on May 25th. I will be back on June 9th.

With love and prayers,

Fr. Antony

PARISH OUTREACH

Happy Mothers' Day!!!!

We want to wish each and every mother, grandmother, aunt or nurturing female a happy and healthy Mother's Day. If you have or have lost a mother, take a moment to remember and appreciate those special times you have shared, or the outstanding tasks that she has performed for you, just out of love. If you can, show her love as well.

Everything everywhere is beginning to bloom...and so should we...It's time for that renewal of spirit, of commitment, of hope. Plant something, do something, go somewhere. Get out, not just outdoors, but outside of your routine. Even if it's just for a short while, do something different – you would be surprised how refreshed you will feel.

There was a time when Grandma set her hot apple pies on the window sill to cool. Her great-granddaughters set them near the stove to thaw.

St Vincent de Paul Conference

"A Great Big Thank You" to all the lovely ladies who attended our Tea on May 5th;

to our courageous and generous Mad Hatters who provided the entertainment;
to all those who worked behind the scenes to make it a success---

Your generosity, in whatever manner, supports the ongoing work of our Parish SVdP Conference.
May God bless you all!

CATHOLICS FOR FREEDOM OF RELIGION

Catholics for Freedom of Religion

Lobbying to Limit Religious Freedom

A network of wealthy donors is funding a series of well-organized lobbying campaigns to restrict legal protections for religious freedom at the federal, state, and local level. For some, the goal is to advance access to abortion and LGBT causes. For others, the goal is revolution and tearing down Western institutions. One donor, Tim Gill, said, "We're going into the hardest states in the country. We're going to punish the wicked."

In PA, the so called Fairness Act was introduced in 2017, and 43 towns passed local ordinances that were used to target residents for their beliefs. In Philadelphia, two Christian foster care agencies are under investigation for discrimination because of their religious beliefs about the nature of the family.

Activists attacked the reputation of a Bloomsbury, PA, Christian owned bridal shop, causing it to shut down. "We will not be forced by government, local ordinances, or bullies to participate in something that goes against our faith," they said.

Some George Soros-funded attacks are aimed at the small number of orthodox, faithful Catholic colleges and universities and focus on anonymous sources accusing faculty and some students of sexual assault. Soros is an outspoken enemy of these schools, their Judeo-Christian principles, and emphasis on modesty and chastity. "We have long known that George Soros is the single most influential donor to dissident and anti-Catholic organizations," said William Donohue, president of the Catholic League.

Mary's Meals -- Story behind the name

A British businessman, moved by seeing children going hungry in Malawi was inspired to start a feeding program in the local schools. This would encourage the children to pursue an education as a way out of poverty. He placed the whole project in the hands of the Virgin Mary. Next a Scotsman named, Magnus McFarlane-Barrow began working with his project and Mary's Meals grew. Today Mary's Meals feeds 600,000 children in 16 different countries around the world.
