A reading from the Holy Gospel according to Mark::

When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around him, and he stayed close to the sea. One of the synagogue officials, named Jairus, came forward. Seeing him he fell at his feet and pleaded earnestly with him, saying, "My daughter is at the point of death. Please, come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live." He went off with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed upon him.

There was a woman afflicted with hemorrhages for twelve years. She had suffered greatly at the hands of many doctors and had spent all that she had. Yet she was not helped but only grew worse. She had heard about Jesus and came up behind him in the crowd and touched his cloak. She said, "If I but touch his clothes, I shall be cured." Immediately her flow of blood dried up. She felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction. Jesus, aware at once that power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who has touched my clothes?" But his disciples said to Jesus, "You see how the crowd is pressing upon you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'" And he looked around to see who had done it. The woman, realizing what had happened to her, approached in fear and trembling. She fell down before Jesus and told him the whole truth. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has saved you. Go in peace and be cured of your affliction."

While he was still speaking, people from the synagogue official's house arrived and said, "Your daughter has died; why trouble the teacher any longer?" Disregarding the message that was reported, Jesus said to the synagogue official, "Do not be afraid; just have faith." He did not allow anyone to accompany him inside except Peter, James, and John, the brother of James. When they arrived at the house of the synagogue official, he caught sight of a commotion, people weeping and wailing loudly. So he went in and said to them, "Why this commotion and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep." And they ridiculed him. Then he put them all out. He took along the child's father and mother and those who were with him and entered the room where the child was. He took the child by the hand and said to her, Talitha koum, "which means, "Little girl, I say to you, arise!"

 The girl, a child of twelve, arose immediately and walked around. At that they were utterly astounded. He gave strict orders that no one should know this and said that she should be given something to eat.

Focus questions:

1. Recall a time when you reached out to touch Jesus to be healed.
2. Describe a time when you were so fearful that you could only place your trust in God.
3. Relate a time when you tried to do something good and you were ridiculed for it.

Family and children’s question:

Talk about someone you know who has a strong faith. How does that inspire you?

FR. ANTONY'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

Jim: I am sorry for your wife in church this morning when she had a terrible attack of coughing and every one turned to look at her.

Garry: Don't need to worry about that. She was wearing a new spring hat and dress.

None of us wants to go unnoticed in our own special moments.

Today we celebrate the Birth of John the Baptist. The Gospel narrates how he was not named after his father Zachariah as expected; but by an unexpected and a special name, John, the name revealed to his father by God. He was given an unexpected name JOHN, a name representing the God-given special-mission (grace) of being the precursor of Jesus, the Messiah.

Every child, though born naturally of its parents, comes into the world specially to fulfil the Godly mission. Our life is not just a physical living but a special mission of God expressed in our words and deeds from birth to death. We are not merely a biological extension of our family, but like John the Baptist, are born with a mission of living a life of bearing witness to God (Jesus) who is in the midst of us.

Let us pray that we too like John find the witnessing value of our lives. May our words and deeds indicate the presence of God in us and in the world in which we live. May we not reduce ourselves in our selfish view of life but rise up to the level of God's mission in us. May we not go unnoticed of the Godly mission we carry within ourselves.

Parish Feast Weekend: Thanks and Gratitude: Last week we celebrated our parish feast spiritually meaningful and socially enjoyable. I thank all the volunteers who made the celebration possible. Our parish owes a special thanks to Diane and Steve Phelan, Marti and John White and their friends in coordinating the parish raffle and the dinner dance, "Dancing Under the Stars". The knights of Columbus, along with the Columbiettes put together the Pancake Breakfast and were always ready to extend their hands of help in many ways. May God bless them all and may St. Thomas More intercede for all our intentions.

Next week, we will take the Peter's Pence Collection, which provides Pope Francis with the funds he needs to carry out his charitable works around the world. The proceeds benefit our brothers and sisters on the margins of society, including victims of war, oppression, and disasters. Please be generous. For more information, visit www.usccb.org/peters-pence.

With love and prayers,

Fr. Antony

PARISH OUTREACH

What a wonderful end of the school year this is...we can't remember a June where the exams weren't taken in 90 degree steamy classrooms!!! Good results should accrue from this weather! The plants are thriving, instead of gasping for moisture, too –so hopefully, this will be a mild summer. For those among us who are sun and heat addicts, we wish a couple of those days as well...but not many.

For those of you who travel, and stay in places not owned by relatives, please bring us those little disposable toilet articles of shampoo, conditioner and body lotions – we can give those out to our clients, who would be very grateful for them!

We know the summer is a time for kicking back and relaxation from hectic schedules – but please don't forget us, and our clients, whose lives are in survival mode. Please continue to donate whatever you can, whenever you can. Meat is always appreciated, as are any non-perishable items like peanut butter, cereal, pasta, pasta sauces, canned items, paper towels, napkins, toilet paper, etc. Thank you.

And did you know? Like fingerprints, everyone's tongue print is different!

A simple description can be found in the following Mission Statement recently approved by The National Council of SVdP in the United States:

David vs Goliath: A Modern Tale of Courage, Conscience & Conviction

The Little Sisters of the Poor, a Catholic religious order dedicated to living with and caring for the elderly poor, filed a lawsuit in 2013 asking the courts to protect them from being forced to comply with the Health & Human Services (HHS) abortion mandate that compelled religious groups to give their employees free access to contraception and abortion-inducing drugs. Without relief, the Little Sisters faced millions of dollars in IRS fines.

The case came before the U.S. Supreme Court in 2016, and they unanimously ruled to protect the Little Sisters. "This is a game-changer," said The Becket Fund for Religious Liberty. "The Court has accepted the government's concession that it can get drugs to people without using the Little Sisters (;) has eliminated all the bad decisions of the lower courts (;) has forbidden the government from fining the Little Sisters ..." The Supreme Court then sent the case back down to the lower courts and asked the government and nonprofits to reach a new settlement.

The nuns still need permanent court protection to finally end this lawsuit.

The latest threat has come from the attorneys general of California, Pennsylvania, and 4 other states who, in 2017, filed suit against the federal government over the broader exemptions to the HHS mandate that benefit the Little Sisters and other nonprofits.

"The Little Sisters will tell the judges in these new cases what they have successfully told the Supreme Court time and again; that governments do not need nuns to give out contraceptives, that our big country has room enough and space enough for diversity of ideas," stated The Beckett Fund.
