A reading from the Gospel according to Mark:

Jesus summoned the Twelve and began to send them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits.

He instructed them to take nothing for the journey but a walking stick—no food, no sack, no money in their belts.

They were, however, to wear sandals but not a second tunic.

He said to them,

“Wherever you enter a house, stay there until you leave. Whatever place does not welcome you or listen to you, leave there and shake the dust off your feet in testimony against them.”

So they went off and preached repentance.

The Twelve drove out many demons, and they anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them.

FR. ANTONY'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

“Officer”, the guy yelled, “My mother-in-law knocked me down with her car!”

“Are you sure that it was your mother-in-law?” asked the officer.

“Absolutely,” the man said, “I would recognize that laugh anywhere.”

How do we recognize a person as friend or foe? What makes us recognize anything for what it is?

This week’s readings invite us to recognize Jesus God-with-us (Emmanuel), “Now and Here”. The first reading narrates how Prophet Ezekiel prepared his people in exile, not to be in revolting spirit or resisting heart ignoring the message of God, but in open mind and willing spirit to hear God’s voice. In the second reading Paul shows through his own personal example how God is present with him/us even in the most troubled times, providing His sufficient grace.

Both these readings set a background to understand today’s Gospel story. Jesus’ contemporaries failed to recognize God’s presence in Jesus and willfully ignored Him even though He was near them as one of them, speaking to them in their own language and living their own life-style. Familiarity can bring contempt and need not always bring better understanding and a living relationship.

His natives were not ready to see in Him more than what they had known him to be. They knew Him too well, his mother Mary, his brothers and his sisters, his profession as a Carpenter. Their mind was not open to see beyond what they knew of Him. Their heart was so hardened that they could not perceive beyond what their physical eyes could see. What they knew of him did not allow them to see who He really was. Their focus was so narrowed that their vision became bridled. Jesus must have been so frustrated that today’s Gospel story ends with exasperation, “A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house.”

We know well that the best things in life are free but, at the same time “things that come to us free are not valued much.” God is free, simple and easy. All we need to do is to just recognize, accept and allow Him to relate with us. Those who accept God in God’s terms will experience and grow in relationship with God. All those who approach God with their preconceived image of God will be disappointed and take offense at God. Let us not harden our heart (1st reading). Let us be open and sensitive to the presence of God at all times, especially at our most troubled times with His sufficient Grace to help us (2nd Reading).

July 4th – Independence Day: Our Nation is travelling for 224 years in the path of freedom and equal justice for all. We have made some advancement towards our destination but still a lot remains to be achieved. Let us pray today for people of various culture and language to grow in patience and tolerance with each other. Let us pray especially for our leaders and rulers that they may serve the people in wisdom and spirit of sacrifice with the vision of freedom and justice and not with vengeance of grabbing power one from the other.

With love and prayers,
Fr. Antony

Catholics for Freedom of Religion

www.cffor.org

"Freedom is not a gift bestowed upon us by other men, but a right that belongs to us by the laws of God and nature."

Benjamin Franklin, Founding Father

Spotlighting Religious Freedom on Independence Day - July 4th

The American Founders gathered in Philadelphia in 1776 to draft the Declaration of Independence, which dissolved the political ties that had bound the American people to Great Britain.

A new nation was born, free and independent.

Religion played a major role in the American Revolution since freedom, and especially religious freedom, was encouraged by the "black-robed regiment" of preachers during the religious revival of the first Great Awakening and by offering a moral sanction for opposition to the British. These ministers supported the idea that civil and religious liberty was ordained by God.(1)

History tells us that the Pilgrims came to America aboard the Mayflower to escape religious persecution in 1620, followed by the Puritans in 1630 for the same reason. However, while these early settlers wanted religious freedom for themselves to practice their own faith, achieving religious freedom for all was an ideal that would take many years leading up to the Declaration of Independence in 1776.(2)

The 56 Signers of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, were men of remarkable courage since they knew they were committing treason against the British Crowne and that, if caught, they risked torture and death. Ultimately, 5 were captured and brutally tortured as traitors, 9 others died from wounds, many had their homes and property pillaged and burned, while others lost their fortunes in helping to fund the Continental Army.

"The day when Americans could take the Founders understanding of Religious Freedom as a given is over."

"It seems there is a real danger to Religious Freedom now and in our country - mostly because people aren't serious about religion or religious freedom."

Archbishop Charles Chaput

This And That With Deacon Matt

In July and August, Deacon Matt will be making time to visit with small groups of parishioners in the home.

Do you have questions about our faith? Do you find it difficult to follow teachings of the Church in this day and age?

Are there issues you'd like to discuss, or suggestions you'd like to make?

The floor is yours! Deacon Matt will be the facilitator.

The format is simple: find 6-10 people to gather at your home on a specific date, serve dessert, and come with your questions/topics.

Deacon Matt is especially interested in hearing the voice of the young. So teenagers and young adults are most certainly encouraged to get a group together.

To see what dates are available and to sign up, go to a page we've setup on our website:

<https://stmli.org/ThisAndThat2021>.

You may also send an email to ThisAndThat2021@stmli.org or leave a message at the Rectory for Deacon Matt to call you.

RCIA NOTE

Who are these folks leaving after the sermon? The RCIA Group dismisses them at the completion of that part of the Mass known as the Mass of the Catechumens (The Liturgy of the Word). These are the people going to a different area of the Church to reflect on the scriptures and how the scriptures relate to their lives. The words of Jesus are the primary teacher of those wishing to become catholic or complete their sacraments.

You as part of the community are also teachers for our inquirers. Please continue to offer a warm welcome to our catechumen, Richard.

He is grateful for your warm welcome and for your prayers as he continues on his journey.

RCIA 2021 – 2022

The RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) invites all parishioners of Saint Thomas More to welcome Richard Kramer.

Richard has committed himself to the path which leads to Baptism, Eucharist, and Confirmation at the Easter Vigil.
