A reading from the Gospel according to Matthew:

Jesus said to his disciples: "You are the salt of the earth. But if salt loses its taste, with what can it be seasoned? It is no longer good for anything but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot. You are the light of the world. A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden. Nor do they light a lamp and then put it under a bushel basket; it is set on a lampstand, where it gives light to all in the house. Just so, your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father."

Focus Questions:

- 1) How are you light and salt in your world?
- 2) Relate a time when you saw the light of Christ in another person?
- 3) Relate a time when you hid your light under a bushel basket.

Family and children’s question:

Name a good deed you did this week that would be pleasing to God.

FR. ANTONY'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

Yuri Gagarin returned from space and Khrushchev asked him a question: "While you were up there, did you see god?" Yuri replied: "Yes."

"That's what I suspected, but don't tell anybody."

Yuri Gagarin traveled to Rome and met the Pope, who asked him a question: "While you were up there, did you see god?" Yuri replied: "No."

"That's what I suspected, but don't tell anybody." This is an imaginary humorous story. Its message is that God is not an abstract reality or a lofty idea to be proved to the satisfaction of the other. God is rather "the spiritual reality and encounter with a person which becomes one's life with a new horizon and a decisive direction." (Pope Benedict)

Today's Gospel portrays God's way of 'ruling' or God's way of building His kingdom among the humans. It enlists at least eight Godly ways of experiencing God's kingdom among us. We call them eight beatitudes. They teach us that God, God's ruling, and God's kingdom are not what we usually imagine them to be. Human Kingdom means a particular territory, certain group of people as citizens, and specific style of ruling.

God's kingdom includes all people, every place on earth and Godly style of ruling. Like St. Paul points out in the second reading that it is not a community of people formed and built by human power but solely gathered by God. It is not any human excellence that keeps the kingdom efficient and alive but their experience of Jesus among them as God's wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, and redemption in whatever they think, say, and do. The kingdom is God's choice and not mere human achievement. As Prophet Isaiah would put it, the kingdom's people are enlightened by God to walk in light; filled by God's abundant joy to live in great rejoicing. When God becomes the unifying and enlivening force of His Kingdom among His people God would smash the yoke that burdened them, break the pole on their shoulder, and impede the rod of their taskmaster. (Isaiah 9:1-3)

The Gospel invites us to see God's kingdom from the perspective of its citizens. It demonstrates who the citizens are and what they should do and how they should live in order to feel the presence and benefit of God's Kingdom (ruling). Yes, God's rule includes all, but the poor, the meek, the merciful, the clean of heart and the peacemakers are their citizens. They would inherit and feel the presence of God's Kingdom among them.

God's kingdom belongs to those who live in God's qualities. To be the people of God's Kingdom is not only a privilege but also a responsibility. To enjoy the benefits of God's Kingdom the citizens must qualify themselves. The qualification is not to boast what they can achieve but to open oneself to God to act in them. The citizens should commit themselves to live God's wisdom and humble themselves to God's power to act in them. They should reflect God's mercy in them which makes them merciful to each other. In short, God's ruling among the humans means each person becomes God's presence to the other.

Everyday we pray Jesus's prayer 'Our Father' asking God His Kingdom to come. Let us try to open our heart and employ all our will and power to do His Will as it is done in Heaven. When we become doers of His will, we will experience the presence of God's Kingdom among us.

With love and prayers,

Fr. Antony
