Growing through the Sunday Scriptures

December 3, 2017 First Sunday of Advent Isaiah 63: 16b-17, 19b, 64:2-7 Psalm 80:2-3. 15-16. 18-19 1 Corinthians 1:3-9 Mark 13:33-37

A reading from the Holy Gospel according to Mark:

Jesus said to his disciples:

"Jesus said to his disciples:

"Be watchful! Be alert!

You do not know when the time will come.

It is like a man traveling abroad.

He leaves home and places his servants in charge,

each with his own work,

and orders the gatekeeper to be on the watch.

Watch, therefore;

you do not know when the Lord of the house is coming,

whether in the evening, or at midnight, or at cockcrow, or in the morning.

May he not come suddenly and find you sleeping.

What I say to you, I say to all: 'Watch!"

Focus questions:

- 1. What practices do you follow in Advent to be awake for the presence of the Lord?
- 2. Describe how you try to do God's work in the world.
- 3. Relate an experience that helps you renew hope in your life.

Family and children's question:

Talk about ways you can do something spiritual throughout Advent, like reading the Scripture for the day (available on the USCCB website), helping the poor, or lighting an Advent candle on an Advent wreath or using a religious Advent calendar.

FR. ANTONY'S LETTER

Dear Friends,

Larry: "Lend me ten dollars."

Harry: "I have just five dollars."

Larry: "All right. Think you are lending ten dollars and give me five dollars for now. Then I'll owe you five dollars and you'll owe me five dollars, and we'll call it square...."

How do you like this new theory of lending and paying?

Today's Gospel takes us to a new type of paying. Whatever one lends now to those who cannot pay back will be paid back by God in godly terms for eternity.

This Sunday being the Last Sunday of the Liturgical Year, we celebrate the Solemn Feast of Christ the King. The readings invite us to see God in Christ as the Ruler of the universe both in life on earth and in life-after (Resurrection) in Heaven. The Gospel explains how Jesus is the Lord and King now and in eternity. This Jesus who will come as a judge of all people is already now present among us in the poor and the needy. The way we experience Jesus now is the way we will experience him in the life-after.

Jesus is coming to us in the hungry, thirsty, sick and lonely persons. All that we do and say to these poor and needy people we do to Jesus. Thus all that we do and say have an eternal aspect attached to them. If we neglect Him in the poor and the needy we will be neglected by him in the eternal life. If we serve Him here He will serve us in Heaven for eternity. Our words and deeds can create a heaven on earth. We can begin to be with God here and thus shall be with Him forever. God is in our midst especially in the poor and the needy. Let us seek and serve him in the poor and needy.

Next Sunday is the First Sunday of Advent. With Advent we begin the New Liturgical Year. It is the time we eagerly wait for God to come and live with us in our human terms. God in Jesus becomes who we are in all our human conditions in order to awaken in all of us the divine potential we can experience and live. May this Advent be a time we prepare to welcome Jesus in our hearts and homes so that His birth among us blesses us with peace and prosperity of God's nature.

This Advent is a special time for our Parish because it brings the Christmas of 2018 as the completion of 50 years of our being as a Parish Community. We celebrated our Golden Jubilee Year through various events, both social and spiritual. We wish to bring the year-long celebration to a finale with our Christmas celebration in the newly renovated Church. I admire and appreciate all your prayers and eager participation in all the events during the Golden Jubilee year. Please continue to pray that the renovation works go smoothly and we celebrate the completion of 50 years of our faith journey in the new Church. May the birth of Jesus renew us all in peace and love as we begin our 51st year this Christmas.

With love and prayers,

Fr. Antony

PARISH OUTREACH

Thanksgiving dinner is a pleasant memory now, as we are all mellow and sleepy from our family dinners. Thank you to all our parishioners and religious education classes, especially that of Claudine Gennari and Daniela Abruscato, who donated many bags of food to our pantry in preparation for our dinner give-away!

And lest we not forget, CHRISTMAS is coming!!!! The Giving Tree will be set up over the week-end of November 18th and will include many opportunities for sharing our blessings with others. We know it seems as though we are constantly asking you to donate, and one holiday just runs into another, but that is unfortunately the time of year that the Pilgrims landed, and then we know about what happened in December

So our advice is to take a deep breath after Thanksgiving and reflect on your blessings. Then take another breath and realize the Miracle that we celebrate on December 25th; it is not about presents or gift-giving, but rather about celebrating our humanity, and the gifts that were given to us by God.

We here at Outreach are so grateful for the Parish in which we live, for Father Anthony and his wise counsel, and for the continued generosity that we see on a daily basis.

Conscience Rights One Step Closer: The Departments of HHS, Treasury, and Labor, on Oct. 6, announced a Rule Protecting the Conscience Rights of All Americans that provides conscience protections to Americans who have a religious or moral objection to paying for health insurance that covers contraception/abortion services. The government appears to admit that it violated the law when it tried to force religious ministries, like the Little Sisters of the Poor, to violate their faith. Under the new rule, the objectionable Health & Human Services (HHS) mandate will remain in place for most employers and will now include an exemption for religious ministries.

However, the Little Sisters still need permanent court protection to finally end their years-long lawsuit and go back to serving the elderly poor. Their case has been on hold ever since May, 2016, when the Supreme Court unanimously overturned the lower courts ruling against the Little Sisters, said the Little Sisters couldn't be fined ($100/day per employee) and ordered the lower courts to find an accommodation acceptable to both parties. "Clearly, the Supreme Court understood the Sisters' concern that the governments current scheme forces them to violate their religion," said the Becket Fund for Religious Liberty.

In a related case, after years of litigation, on Oct. 11, the Department of Justice reached a settlement that marks relief for two similar ministries in relation to the HHS mandate. "The last 3 years of litigation could have been avoided entirely if ... administration had simply recognized that the First Amendment protects the rights of conscience of these religious ministries against an administration intent on coercing their obedience," said First Liberty Institute. Join Krist Kindle and share your love of Christmas with another STM family this Advent season

The week before Advent begins you will receive, in the mail, the name of another parish family whom you can pray for and surprise with notes, telephone calls, or a small token gift once a week for each of the four weeks of Advent.

Please fill out the attached form and drop it in the box in the narthex or at the rectory by November 26th. At a celebration on January 7, 2017, the secret partners are revealed. This is a wonderful way to meet new friends and a warm and friendly way to teach children the true meaning of Christmas with prayer, thanksgiving and generosity to others.

At the Meet and Greet on the 7th, we would like to have the children in the families present a short Epiphany play. Please circle 'Yes' on the form if your children would like to take part.
